Manual Overview

This Volunteering Manual:

1. Outlines the key policies and procedures for the volunteering program
2. Ensures a common understanding of the volunteering model and division of responsibilities
3. Documents the key information required for each volunteering procedure
4. Guides continuous improvement and quality review processes

It does this by covering both volunteering pathway and support processes. These are divided into the following five categories:

1. Recruitment
2. Appointment
3. Service Delivery
4. Exit
5. Quality Review

This manual is designed to be a helpful document for volunteers. It allows you to see what policies exist that concern the volunteering program and what to do about each of these. In particular, it seeks to answer any questions you may have about the volunteering program and the processes involved in being a volunteer. It is to be read before you begin volunteering and then referred to as you need to, throughout your time volunteering. If you have any questions about the manual or feel there is something that is not covered by the manual, you can contact the Volunteers Coordinator on volunteer@mosman.nsw.gov.au.

The manual is also a useful document for Program Coordinators and the Volunteers Coordinator as it provides a clear division of responsibilities. It also details workflow processes.

Model Overview

The volunteering business model operating at Mosman Council is a core service and support service model. The Volunteers' Office is Council's support service and Program Coordinators oversee the core service delivery model. Together, the Volunteers' Office and Program Coordinators provide volunteering opportunities across a number of social, cultural and environmental programs run by Council.

Volunteers provide extra hands so Council can do far more in the community than it could without volunteers. Volunteering is also a way people can keep connected, productive and purposeful, reducing the risks of and problems associated with isolation. The Volunteers' Office ensures that recruitment and generic compliance processes are consistent and smooth, provides a welcoming face to new volunteers and ensures that Program Coordinators have the support they need to supervise the volunteers operating in their services. The volunteers all contribute in the community to the benefit of the community. For some people, they are the face of Council.

Commitment to Volunteer Involvement

Policy

We are committed to volunteer involvement and actively seek out volunteers with a range of skills and abilities, from a variety of backgrounds to support the facilitation of Council programs. We appreciate volunteers who are enthusiastic, reliable, competent and flexible. Volunteer involvement aligns with Council's vision, strategic direction and planning.

Some volunteer programs are services that are funded, usually by other levels of government. These programs often have stipulations that we must meet, including that volunteers undergo police checks.

3.8 Work, Health and Safety

Policy

All Council 'workers' have responsibilities under the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 (WH&S Act). Volunteers are considered as 'workers' under Work Health and Safety (WHS) Laws.

We value the health and wellbeing of our volunteers and are committed to providing a safe workplace. Staff and volunteers are all responsible for upholding WHS standards and working to best practice. Staff and volunteers share the responsibility for working safely, identifying risks; and acting to minimize them. Under no circumstances are volunteers allowed to carry out their volunteering duties when under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

Procedure and Responsibility

3.18 Gifts and Benefits

Policy

From time to time volunteers may be offered gifts or benefits as a thank you for the service they give to members of the community. We expect volunteers not to accept gifts or benefits unless they are token or of nominal value. In the case of any gift being offered or accepted, we expect volunteers to notify their Program Coordinator immediately. The Code of Conduct provides helpful guidance on this and also stipulates that volunteers must never solicit a gift.

3.19 Performance Management and Dismissal

Policy

In situations where a volunteer is not meeting the expectations of their role various remedies may be offered. If performance does not improve the volunteer's service may be terminated. If performance is related to a breach of the Code of Conduct or Memorandum of Understanding, termination may occur immediately.

4. Exit

4.1 Resignation and Exit Interview

Policy

We appreciate it when volunteers provide as much notice as possible of their resignation so the transition period can be planned. We encourage all volunteers to participate in an exit interview so their feedback can be documented for overall program improvement. All volunteers receive a letter of recognition for their volunteering service.

4.2 Succession Planning

Policy

We acknowledge and appreciate the dedication of long serving volunteers, but recognise that over time, roles can become too demanding to be undertaken safely and without risk. When this happens we commit to managing retirement in a dignified and respectful manner.
